

Exercise 3 - Tell me a Joke

`elem.innerHTML` is used to populate a `div` with HTML. Search online about this method and create a website with a `div` tag containing a random joke given an array of jokes. Use `Math.random` and fetch jokes from the internet (use any website to create the array). Your website should show a random joke on every reload. Min length of your jokes array should be 10.